

BACCHUS CULINARY ADVENTURES.....presents:

Village Christmas Markets in Southern Germany, December 2010

Food, Wine, Culture, Wellness, and Shopping in Southern Germany

Please join us for a tour of southern Germany with Brigitte Guehr, culinary and wine expert, restaurant and hotel owner, Solvang, California

This trip will take to places a travel agent or guide books would never know about. Brigitte will introduce you to the small villages in a region near the French and Swiss Borders known for great food and wines. We will visit the small village Christmas markets where local crafts and artisan foods and spirits are featured. Warm your heart with the true feeling of Christmas and your hands on a warm glass of "Gluehwein", roasted chestnuts and fresh gingerbread as you wander through the winter wonderland of Southern Germany. You will meet some of Brigitte's personal friends and visiting places of incredible beauty, tasting authentic, delicious foods and local wines while working off some of those calories with the opportunity of daily walks, some cross country skiing in the Black Forest, and spa treatments.

Included in the cost of this personalized tour are accommodations for 10 nights, daily breakfast, 4 dinners with wine, and tips and transportation beginning and ending in Frankfurt, Germany. Participants will have the opportunity to have personal time, while enjoying Brigitte's recommendations. Transportation will be by train, van/ minibus or foot.

Maximum participants 8 guests.

Cost: $2,000 per person for accommodations in a double room, $2,400 for single occupancy.

Not included is airfare, other dinners, lunches and tips, personal expenses, insurance

Itinerary:

Arrive in Frankfurt, travel south to Baden-Baden, Freiburg, Todtnauberg (Blackforest) and villages in the wine region of Baden, located between the Blackforest and the French border to Alsace Lorraine, Breisach, Colmar. Return before Christmas.

Dates and further details to be determined.
